AIR-Rory O' More. There's a land of the South-" tis the clime of the sun," And great is the name which her children have won. Tis the land where oppression and power ne'er came, To sadden those children and darken her fame: Carolina, Carolina, Carolina we bless, Our hope when cares throng, our pride in success: And ever we'll love thee, come weal or come woe, And cherish thine honor wherever we go.

No coward or traitor e'er stains thee with shame, Nor heart to disown thee, thy borders can claim; But every heart true, and every arm strong, Shall hand down thy glory to history and song. Thy statesmen and heroes now brighten thy page, Glad'ning the student, inspiring the sage: And ever we'll turn us to thee with that love, Which wrong shall but quicken and trials but prove.

Carolina! Carolina! thy spirit be known, Where pride would disdain thee or insult be shown; Quick to raise high thy halberd for right, To wield it while justice and truth keep it bright. Then, here's to the State which no tyrant dare rule ! Whose sons have been tutored in liberty's school! And long as Time lingers, that land be it blest-The garden of statesmen, the gem of the West! I carried a pair of saddlebags, Constantly on hand and for sale locks of all sorts and self " I will not only escape the scorching rays of the him. sun, but will add many names to my list." I hitched my horse, and as I approached, I heard one of them say "there comes one of the d-d rascals now." I knew not at the time what he meant, but, to my cost, I soon discovered. " Mister, I sp'ose you are the abolitioner, aint vou ? " said one as they all gathered around me. I perceived that they had been drinking, and was pretty much "how come you so" or "half seas over," or what might be termed neither drunk nor sober; in fact, they were in that state that might be considered most dangerous to a man whose appearance did not please them. I stated my business in a very submissive manner, for I saw that mischief was afoot; still they doubted me. I then showed them my commission, signed by the United States Marshal. "It's all a forgery, boys; lets search him. He's a regular Abolitioner, I can tell by his looks; let's search him, and then tar and feather, or hang him." I began to feel uneasy. I knew not one of them. They were all half drunk, and appeared determined. In vain I stated to them that I was a promiit was Fillmore himself instead of me;" and while every convenience for travelling, in the way of was right, and all resistance was useless. They gave my pockets, saddlebags, and books a most thorough investigation. "He aint got a cent," said one. "That's the way all them Yankee rascals travel." "Tar and feathers," said all. Perspiration now flowed freely. I looked at my horse, but there was no chance to reach him. I was surrounded-completely hemmed in. Thinks I, this bangs creation. "Gentlemen." said I. " I am no Abolitionist. I am a native of this district-never was out of the State in my life," (I had been in Augusta once, but thought it better not to mention it.) "If you tar and feather me, you will degrade an innocent man-not only the

I intended to make a few more remarks, and might have reached a climax of eloquence that would have deterred them, but just at this moment a detachment of eighteen or twenty candidates arrived, and, although they were somewhat gratified at the proceedings, ( not liking a former letter I wrote to the Mercury,) they kindly rescued me, and, after a while, I went on my way rejoicing.

The Great Frederick of Prussia found it easier in after life to route the French and Austrians, than in FINE subscriber has determined to locate in this City, youth to resist the seductions of sleep. After many single handed attempts at reformation, he had at last to call to his assistance an old domestic, whom he charged, on pain of dismissal, to pull him out of bed every morning at two o'clock. All men of action are impressed with the importance of early rising. "When you begin to turn in bed its time to turn out," says the old duke; and we believe his practice has been in accordance with his precept. Literary menamong whom, as Bulwer says, a certain indolence seems to be almost constitutional-are not so clear on this point; they are divded between night and morning, though the best authorities seem in favor of the latter. Early rising is the best elixir vila, it is the only lengthener of life that man has ever devised. $125 REWARD. TO UNAWAY from the subscriber, residing in Edge-Combe county, four miles north of Tornot Deput, and about a quarter of a mile from the Railroad, on or sbout the second of September last , his negro man named 4 52 HARRY. Said Harry is about 40 years of age; 5 feet 5 inches high, or thereabouts; yellow complexion; stout built; has a scar on his left leg, from the cut of an axe; has very thick lips; eyes deep sunk in his head; forchead very square; tolerably loud voice; has lost one or two of his upper front teeth; and has a very dark spot on his 2 50 jaw, supposed to be a mark. Harry is a Carpenter by trade, and has been in the employment of a Railroad Company, in whose service he was when he runaway. He is well known along the line of the Road. It is supposed that he has obtained, or will 2 32 endeavor to obtain, free papers from a free colored man living in Nash county, by the name of Moses Hagens, 2 26 and assume his name, in order to make his way to a free 2 10 State.

The above negro was once the property of Mrs. Co-page, of Edgecomb county; afterwards he fell into the hands of Asiel Farmer, from whom he was purchased by

Mr. Barnes, of said county, from whom I purchased him about six years ago. He will be certain to alter his name; probablyto call himself Harry Copage, Farmer, or Barnes. He was last heard from on the 11th September, on the Newbern Road, about a mile and a half from Wilmington, enquiring the way to the Sound. I will give the above reward to any person who will deliver him to me, or lodge him in any jail in the State; or One Hundred Dollars if lodged in any jail out of the State, so that I can get him again. Captains of vessels are cautioned against taking the above negro away, under the severest penalty of the law. GUILFORD HORN.
